ABOUT THIS SEMINAR

The one-day program is designed to present an overview of current Railroad Commission rules and procedures and other oil and gas issues that will be useful to attorneys, engineers, geologists, landmen, and others whose business brings them in contact with the Railroad Commission of Texas. The oral presentations will be supplemented by power point materials, copies of which will be distributed at the start of the seminar. No written articles will be distributed at this seminar. Depending on the number of attendees and available time, questions may be permitted following the oral presentations. Otherwise, questions will be entertained by the speakers during scheduled breaks. Disciplinary rules of the State Bar prohibit answering questions about specific individual problems in this forum.
